JOHN H. HUNTOON, ROAD AGENT.

REPORT OF SCHOOL BOARD.

The literary fund received from the state for schooling purposes the past year was twenty-seven dollars less than for the year 1895, and about eighty dollars less than 1894, a reduction of one half in two years.

The present method of raising money for the support of common schools in this state was well enough when the towns were more equal in proportionate wealth. At the present time the wealth of the state is largely concentrated in rail-road centres, cities, and large manufacturing towns.

The same tax for school purposes give these places an abundance, leaving the exclusively farming towns very short. The latter are the towns that can least afford special taxes above what the law requires. The amount required to be raised by towns ought to be cut down one half, and the state should raise a like half on the taxable property to be divided pro rata the same as the literary fund. Some fifty or sixty towns in the state would be largely benefited, while the rest would hardly feel it. The farming communities should ask for legislation in this line or a good common school education for their children will become quite burdensome.
